

Mother Earth: (Raps)

“When things began the master’s plan took time for me to brew...the timbers grew, the soil renewed, the sky was always blue; the creatures roamed in peaceful herds and birds and plants were found...there were plenty of my gifts to find especially in the ground. The BOSS (pointing upwards) gave me the earth to tend and then invented you! Get it!

(Chorus) (We get it!)

“YOU chopped and dug and got the bug for more than you could use...before too long, it all went wrong, you started to abuse”! The climate changed, your troubles grew, just take a look around (Protests from Jason and Aphie are stilled by Mother Earth’s wand-she continues)

“The trees came down, the green turned brown; the birds fell to the ground. They couldn’t breathe the air you made from things you took from me... you call them fossil fuels, BUT THEY’RE my family jewels and cannot be renewed... Get It! (chorus) (We get it!)... They were made for you to share...not to hoard ‘em or to bleed ‘em, to double-deal or steal ‘em ... ‘cos you’re the only ones who need ‘em... You’ve only been around a while, but your cities stretch for miles, with garbage stacks and piles of stuff, you bury in my ground (she punctuates this like a wagon master) and - that-just gives –me- gas”! (All cheer. She holds up her wand and they all fall silent...She pauses for effect, stands on one toe, all expectant? They shout!)

Chorus:

Go for it Mum! Let’s hear one! Make it a ripper Mum! (Marcel Maggott rushes across the stage as he breaks an enormous fart...He is followed by the guffaws and jeers of all.)

Marcel Maggot:

Too merch lernch

Mother Earth:

“You’ve done so much harm to me, that this is what I fear... if you don’t mend your ways my dears (She pauses, removes her glasses, bats her eyes at the audience)... these won’t be crocodile tears. I’ll wipe the slate! I’ll Start again! You’ve seen what I can do! I’ve had enough of you today; it’s time for you to choose. Get it! (Chorus) We get it”!

“The way ahead it can be led by reason to enlighten... You’ve had a dose of both today and I know that it can frighten...But you have your Heroes – and my fav’ is Honest Abe... He paved the way for you today...Just one thing more, before we go, you’ve got to get along, be kinder to each other and heed my words, I wrote them in a song”.
